We do not sell cheap groceries, but we do sell groceries cheap. In other words, while our prices are away down, our goods are away up in quality. That is the reason why our trade increases every month we are in business. We couldn't hold our trade on inferior goods, and we wouldn't sell them to you. All we ask is for you to come to our store, get our prices, look at the goods, and investigate thoroughly every order, comparing prices with any you can get. We ask your trade, on this basis. Come and see us, and it will not be our fault if you are not entire-

NOT OVERCAPITALIZED.

So Says E. H. Harriman, Referring to Railroads.

FEDERAL CONTROL EXISTS

Asserts There Are Enough Laws Now Upon the Statute Books and Their Judicious Application Is All That Is Deemed Necessary.

New York, March 21.—E. H. Harriman, in an interview just published, replies to statements credited to John D. Rockefeller, in which the latter declared against overcapitalization of railroads and other corporations and in favor of government control of railroads.

Mr. Harriman was asked what he thought of Mr. Rockefeller's statement that there should be Federal control of railroads, and replied: "There is Federal control now. That arm of the government to which is delegated the power for supervising railroads is equipped with enormous responsibility. There are laws enough in the statute books now—far more than enough. All that is necessary is to have them judiciously and wisely administered. There is no need for supplemental supervision."

When Mr. Harriman was asked if he thought the railroads were overcap-italized he replied: "No. You must remember this is a wonderful country.
It has been made so by the enthusiasm, imagination and speculative bent of its superbly capable people. There have been magnificent pioneers. They saw into the future and adapted their works to possibilities. There is much to be developed in this country. Towns are growing like magic and its people toiling like the Aladdin lamp of genii.
Roads are not overcapitalized for the country and its capabilities. Take any road—say the Pennsylvania. You have been over it. Did you ever notice the miles and miles of abandoned tracks?
You have seen them at crossings everywhere you go. Instead of that you now see straight lines with wonderful ballasting. In counting your capitalization think of the money that has gone into abandoned lines, bridges and terminals. They must be considered part of the constructive cost, and when you take this in you will find that you are not overcapitalized."

"Now, take the dividend matter.
There are not a great many roads in the country paying 6 per cent dividends. Look at the matter in this light: A man who takes preferred security must be content with smaller interest returns. Suppose your bonds return 3 or 3 1/2 per cent—your preferred stock 4 or 5. Now, take your average dividend and you find you are not overcapitalized."

WONDERFUL ESCAPE.

Locomotive Rolls Over Engineer, but Does Not Kill Him.

Antonio, Colo., March 21.—Eastbound Denver and Rio Grande passenger train No. 116, running between Durango and this place, left the track at a curve between Osier and Toltec gorge, three miles west of here, and the thirty-five passengers had a miraculous escape from death. The engine and tender rolled down an embankment 200 feet to the bottom of the chasm. As the coaches left the track several turned completely over and the rest alighted on their sides.
The engine crew jumped in order to save their lives and Engineer Smith rolled down the embankment. He was overtaken by the engine, which passed over his body in its wild flight to the foot of the embankment. That he was not crushed to death is incomprehensible. As it is, he is quite badly injured, but it is not believed fatally so.
All passengers were more or less hurt, but none seriously.

JAPAN AND PHILIPPINES.

Senator Stone of the Opinion That Country Wants to Possess Them.

Kansas City, March 21.—United States Senator Stone, in the course of a speech here at the monthly dinner of the Knife and Fork club, said: "If we are ever to have serious trouble with any nation it will be Japan.
Japan wants the Philippines. I am not sure whether it would be best for all concerned if she should get them, but one thing is certain and that is she never can get them with our consent.
But we may have trouble in keeping them. Japan could seize the archipelago in a week and we could only send over a big enough fleet to wipe Japan from the sea. That would be a huge and costly task."

DECISIVELY DEFEATED.

Salvadoreans and Hondureans Said to Have Met Dire Disaster.

Paris, March 21.—The following dispatch was received by the Nicaraguan legation from Senor Gomez, the minister of foreign affairs of Nicaragua:
"Five thousand Salvadoreans and Hon-dureans have been decisively defeated at Portillos de Namasique after a bloody three days' battle."

Clowry a Director.

New York, March 21.—At the annual meeting of the Texas and Pacific railroad stockholders Robert C. Clowry was elected a director to succeed James H. Hyde and Benjamin Nicoll to succeed Louis Fitzgerald. All the other directors were re-elected.

NOT "BAILEY TRAIN."

Brown Assured It Was Chartered by Citizens of Fort Worth.

Austin, March 21.—During Thursday morning's session of the house Representative Brown of Wharton arose to a question of personal privilege to reply to an article appearing in one of Austin's daily papers to the effect that the "Bailey special leaves for Fort Worth tonight at 10:30 o'clock," etc.

He declared that from this article it would appear that the trip had some political significance and that he was under the impression that the invitation was from the citizens of Fort Worth to the fat stock show. He declared emphatically that he did not want it heralded around that he went to Fort Worth on a Bailey train.

Representative Lane of Fort Worth said that it was not a "Bailey train," but that the train had been chartered by people of Fort Worth to transport members of the legislature to the fat stock show.

The house adopted the Neblett substitute to the reciprocal demurrage bill. This has the effect of placing the question of requiring railroads to furnish cars to shippers promptly under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission. The bill then passed to third reading.

Most of the morning session of the house Thursday was devoted to consideration of the Santa Fe merger bill, which has already passed the senate.

The house passed to third reading the senate bill to establish a department of agriculture and bureau of labor and now it goes to the governor.
Representative Young introduced a bill in the house, on recommendation of Governor Campbell, to divide the state into four revenue districts and providing for four state agents at a salary of $1,800 per year each, instead of one, as now.

The senate passed finally a number of important measures, as follows: House bill repealing occupation tax law on useful occupations; house bill to prohibit discrimination against persons seeking employment or to prohibit corporations from blacklisting its employees; house full crew bill; juvenile court bill and two companion bills to the juvenile court bill; anti-lobby bill. When the house concurs in the amendments to these measures they will be sent to the governor for his approval.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Thirty-Second Annual Meeting Is Being Conducted at Dallas.

Dallas, March 21.—The thirty-second annual convention of the Texas Sunday School association was called to order Thursday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church with about 350 delegates in attendance. President W.
N. Wiggins is presiding. The first theme was, "Get Right With God." Professor Excell of Chicago is in charge of the music. "Ourselves in Service" was discussed by Rev. H. C.
Risner of Tyler. A consecration service followed, in which many delegates participated.

A boys and girls' mass meeting, conducted by Mrs. J. S. Taylor of Dallas, was held at the First Methodist church.

CATHEDRAL CORNERSTONE.

With Imposing Ceremonies Scottish Rite Masons Begin Structure.

Dallas, March 21.—With imposing ceremonies and in the presence of a vast throng the cornerstone of the Scottish Rite Masonic cathedral was laid Thursday afternoon by Grand Master Bell of Bellville, assisted by many prominent Texas Masons. The cathedral, which will occupy a block, will be one of the grandest in the United States. S. P. Cochran, a leading grand officer, delivered an address.

LABOR AND FUEL.

George J. Gould Ascribes Operating Expense Increase to These Causes.

New York, March 21.—In his annual report to the stockholders of the Texas and Pacific railroad President George J. Gould pointed out that of the increase of $1,664,757 in operating expenses 54 per cent represented increased cost of labor and fuel. Mr.
Gould added that the labor question in the southwest continues a serious problem, as it does all over the country, and the demands of labor are growing to be a burden to difficult to carry from year to year.

ITALY STORM SWEEPED.

Violent Hurricanes, Causing Serious Damage, Have Taken Place.

Rome, March 21.—Violent hurricane, causing serious damage, have swept over Italy. A number of vessels are reported as having been wrecked.

Sheet Metal Workers Strike.

Houston, March 21.—All sheet metal workers employed by Necco & Else-man went on strike. About 150 men are involved. Of these sixty are in Houston and the remainder at San Antonio, Rosenberg, Laredo and other cities over the state where the firm has men employed. The demand is for $4 per day, an advance of 40 cents over the present wage scale.

British Steamer Beached.

Hakodate Japan, March 21.—The British steamer Fernley, from Taca-ma, Wash., Feb. 10, for Taku, has been beached near here after having sustained extensive damages. It is supposed she struck a floating mine in the Straits of Tsugaru. Divers are examining the vessel, which must discharge her cargo before proceeding.

Negro Accused of Disturbing the Peace at Kansas City Claims to Have Been Not Brownsville During Trouble and He Terms Confession a Fake.

Kansas City, March 21.—Clifford Adair, a negro, arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace and called up in police court here pleaded with Judge Kyle to be easy with him, saying he was an old soldier. He said he had belonged to Company C of the Twenty-fifth infantry, whose members were discharged because of that company's part in the Brownsville affair.

When Judge Kyle learned from the prisoner that he was at Brownsville at the time of the riot he said:

"Tell me who fired those shots at Brownsville and I'll turn you loose."
"I don't know," declared Adair.

"How about that negro that 'confessed' to the shooting the other day?"
"He doesn't know a thing about it, judge. We didn't have any trouble down there. That confession was a fake. Somebody was just a jobbing us down there."

Judge Kyle repeated his promise to release the man if he would tell who fired the shots at Brownsville, but the negro remained silent. He was finally discharged.

PERSISTENT WOMEN.

Endeavored to Make a More Important Demonstration Than Ever.

London, March 21.—The woman suf-fragists attempted Wednesday a demonstration raid on parliament more and more numerous than any of their previous efforts. The police, however, had timely warning, and made preparations that resulted in making the demonstration somewhat ineffective.
The only result was some amusing disorderly scuffles and the arrest of nearly seventy suffragists, who were at once liberated on bail.

Previous to the demonstration an indignation meeting, which was larly attended by the so-called "suffragists" and their friends, was held at Caxton hall, where the speakers denounced the house of commons for stifling the Dickinson woman suffragist bills.

The raid was led by Lady Barberton, who was assisted by the most prominent women who took part in the previous raids. The women drove up in wagons, and after promenading before the houses of parliament, stormed the entrance of the house of commons, where the police reinforcements, drawn up for the occasion, awaited the onslaught and drove the women back. After this first rebuff the women made a second determined attempt to penetrate the police cordon, but all to little purpose. In accordance with instructions, the police employed against the women as little force as possible.

At a late hour the suffragists reassembled at Caxton hall, and amid the greatest enthusiasm passed a resolution to send another deputation to the premier and renewed their demonstrations before parliament. Accordingly another move was made against the house of commons, and the disorderly scenes were repeated on a smaller scale, and several further arrests were made.

MONOPOLY BROKEN.

Oklahoma Has Power to Prescribe the Flash Tests Necessary.

Guthrie, March 21.—The monopoly of the Standard Oil company in Oklahoma has been broken by an opinion of W. O. Cromwell, the territorial attorney general. Mr. Cromwell held that the territory has the power to prescribe such flash tests as afford safety to consumers, but that the legislature has no authority to regulate the quality of any amount of merchandise shipped into the territory and sold by merchants and bought by the people. The restrictions the opinions removes are contained in the act of legislature of 1903. When in Washington several weeks ago, Governor Frantz submitted the law and his proposal to James R.
Garfield, secretary of the interior.
Secretary Garfield said that his impression was that the law was invalid.

KINDLY ACT.

Stalks Cut Off the Land of a Sick Fraternal Man.

Guthrie, March 21.—The talks were cut off thirty-five acres of ground and the land plowed at Drake, I. T., by members of the Odd Fellow, Woodmen of the World and Modern Woodmen lodges, of which M. D. Phillips, owner of the land, is a member. Phillips has been critically ill for several weeks and unable to cultivate the land for planting.

Denison Tragedy.

Denison, March 21.—After an altercation over a $10 bill Prince David, a negro procured a shotgun and emptied both barrels into the breast of Jim Glover, also colored, killing him almost instantly. The shooting occurred on a street in the presence of several persons. Davis escaped.

INCOME MORTGAGING.

Internal Improvements Committee In Favorable to Measure.

Austin, March 21.—The senate committee on internal improvements has made a favorable report on Senator Barrett's bill, drawn by the railroad companies, intended to present railroads from pledging their income or mortgaging it for any purpose.

At present income has been pledged in order to raise funds to secure new and more equipment. The railroads fought the bill in the committee.

Senator Skinner has introduced a bill providing for the working of all short-term convicts on the public roads of Texas. It provides a system for the distribution and work of the convicts.

The senate committee on educational affairs has reported favorably the bill to require the teaching of elementary agriculture in all public schools except in the independent school districts containing a scholastic population of 300 or more.

The senate committee on state affairs favorably reported house bill providing for the establishment of an institution for the feeble-minded of the state.

NEW INSURANCE BILL.

Companies Under It Required to Invest Forty Per Cent.

Austin, March 21.—The senate committee reported a substitute for the Robertson insurance bill, which passed the house some days ago. The substitute bill was written by Judge Robertson himself, and he thinks it removes every reasonable objection that the insurance men have urged against the original measure.

Perhaps the most conspicuous change is that the fire insurance companies are required to invest 40 per cent instead of 75 per cent of the reserve arising from Texas business, and to deposit only 20 per cent of the reserve. Another change is that it includes mutual life insurance companies, which were omitted from the original bill by inadvertence, it is said.

TO AVERT STRIKE.

Managers and Employers' Representatives to Confer Tuesday.

Chicago, March 21.—Railroad managers and representatives of the organizations of trainmen and conductors will meet in conference here next Tuesday in an effort to avert a threatening strike of 50,000 men on all the railroads throughout the west.

The canvass of the vote taken by the men on all the roads involved in the controversy will have been completed by that time and the proposition will have been put up to the managers.
Notwithstanding the fact that the situation is critical, the general impression in railroad circles is that the differences would be amicably adjusted.

TELLER MISSING.

Large Shortage in His Accounts Is Alleged to Exist.

Atlanta, March 21.—A special to the Journal from Charlotte, N. C., says: Frank Jones, teller in the Charlotte National bank, has been missing since last Saturday, when he left, saying he was going to Richmond, Va. An examination of his accounts show a shortage of about $68,000. The bank has offered a reward of $1,000 for his apprehension.

The Charlotte National bank, it is said will not suffer from the alleged defalcation, as its assets are more than $1,000,000. Prompt aid was offered it from other banks, which was refused.

The game will be called at the College athletic grounds at 4:30 o'clock. The admission fee will be 50 cents, and it is anticipated the attendance will be very large. It is hoped that a special train can be secured for the accommodation of those who wish to attend, and the cadets are working in an effort to secure it. Announcement of the result of the effort will be made in ample time for those who wish to go to make other arrangements in case the train is not secured.

The College team is a strong one and in good condition, and will put up a good game with the crack national league team from Cincinnati. DISTRICT COURT MATTERS.

Robert Tims Given Five Years for Manslaughter and Ben Cotina Acquitted.

The jury in the case of Robert Tims, the negro charged with killing his wife at Millican some weeks ago, brought in a verdict yesterday evening, after being out since Wednesday night, assessing the punishment of Tims at five years in the penitentiary for manslaughter.

The case of Ben Cotina, the young Italian charged with the killing of the negro woman near Mudville some months ago, then went to trial. After hearing the testimony of witnesses in the case, Judge Scott instructed the jury to bring in a verdict acquitting Cotina, which was done.

The case of Jim Brush, held in connection with the killing of the Tims woman at Millican, was continued.

DEPUTY MARSHAL REED RESIGNS.

THAW DANGEROUS.

Six Alienists of the Opinion He Should Be Kept in Custody.

New York, March 21.—The seven alienists employed by District Attorney in the Thaw case Thursday signed affidavits for presentation to Judge Fitzgerald in argument for the appointment of a commission in lunacy to examine Thaw. Six of the alienists in their affidavits declared that Thaw was suffering from a form of paranoia and that he should not be discharged from custody; that if he should be discharged he would be dangerous to the public peace and safety, and that it is reasonably certain that he will not recover. The seventh alienist, Dr. Hirsch, agrees with his colleagues except that he declared that Thaw cannot possibly recover. The document includes also an affidavit by Irving Cobb, a reporter, describing a note given to him a few weeks ago by Thaw, in which Thaw commented upon his wife's testimony and upon the conduct of the prosecution.

Thaw's wife and the Countess of Yarmouth, his sister, visited him an hour.

New Orleans, March 21.—J. A. Van Hoose of Birmingham, president of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' association, took up with New Orleans merchants a movement to secure united effort among southern states for a direct line of steamers from New Orleans to the Isthmus of Panama. The object is to more readily enable southern dealers to bid against New York in supplies for the canal zone. If the New Orleans line becomes a success Mr. Van Hoose proposes that it be extended to other gulf ports.

HEADACHE

It is one of the greatest enemies of mankind. How many endure, day after day, this nerve-racking, strength-sapping pain, without thought of its origin.

The Cause is never sought by the majority of sufferers—they endure and wonder.

Science has discovered that all headaches are caused by defective circulation of the blood. The blood is not properly oxygenated, and the result is pain.

PROGRESSIVE DRUGGISTS

PLACING IMMIGRANTS

PLENDID WORK OF A NEW YORK DISTRIBUTING AGENCY.

Congestion in Cities Relieved By Sending Out the Russian Jews Into Places Where They Are Needed.

The immigrants are pouring into his country in ever increasing numbers, and there is always a tendency on their part to herd in the large cities, especially New York. This is due especially to the Russian Jews, who, because of the persecutions in the czar's dominions, are flocking to his country. To correct this overcrowding an industrial removal office has been established in New York city, which is doing a remarkable work about which the general public knows little or nothing. The office was started a little over five years ago and since that time it has sent away from this city 29,413 persons, almost all of them recent arrivals from Russia, who knew no English and were, in many cases, practically penniless. Of these about 16,000 were wage-earners; the remainder their wives and children.

When an immigrant, just arrived from Europe, is directed to the removal office by some acquaintance he gives a record of his antecedents to some employee there. This record is investigated by the office staff. If the applicant is adjudged to be a suitable person, he is sent away to some place in the United States where he will have an opportunity of earning his living. If he has friends or relatives in some particular town, he goes there; otherwise he goes to whatever

AULD BRIG OF AYR

SCOTS URGED TO SAVE IT FROM RAPACIOUS AMERICANS.

Lord Rosebery Fears That Millions of This Land Will Snap Up and Transport Historic Bridge.

The American millionaire has come to be known in Europe as the connoisseur of everything which is old and rare, and his money has not only bought many a priceless art treasure but entire castles as well which his energy has torn down, shipped across the ocean and reared again on American soil. This has led the European to realize that nothing is sacred to the European that an American with push and gold may covet.

The latest object of concern to the Britisher is the "Auld Brig of Ayr" which Lord Rosebery is urging the Scotch to purchase and hold lest it catch the fancy of some American and it be transported, bodily to American soil.

So concerned was the titled Englishman over the matter that he recently made a trip to Glasgow and in a passionate appeal urged Scotland to preserve the old bridge for the sake of its association with the name of the poet Burns. He charged that the Scots were open to the charge of cant, a thing that Burns hated, when they honored and revered his memory and could not raise $50,000 to preserve its most cherished associations.

All this presents an interesting and new phase of the American terror in Europe and the British Isles. Even their old bridges they feel are not safe to them. There is a touch of humor to the American reader at least in the substance of Lord Rosebery's appeal as reported in the Manchester Guardian.

He said he had come to Glasgow "in many different characters, but he never before came in the character of what the poet whom they were thinking of that day would have called, 'a jolly beggar.' He was a jolly beggar that day, at least as jolly as he could be under the circumstances, because the avocation of a beggar was not very congenial to him, from want of practice. He had begged in Edinburgh; he appealed to the old 'Chuckle Reekie,' as Burns called Edinburgh, and he hoped the old 'chuckle' was going to lay some eggs. If she were slothful the Cock of the West would be down, and would rival, and more than rival, all her efforts. It was no secret that what he was asking from them that day was a certain sum of money, to be got within a very limited time, to save what was not merely the subject of one of Burns' famous place is determined upon by the removal office.

The success of this system has been very marked. To take the Russians sent to Toledo, Ohio, as an example, one Russian immigrant there is now earning $70 a month, another $60, another $16 a week. To show the diversity of occupations, one is employed in the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad shops, another in the Pope Motor Car works, another in the American Can company, another in the Gendron Wheel company. These men had been in the United States only a few weeks at the time they were sent to Toledo by the removal office.

In Omaha, Neb., men sent away from New York city by the office are now working as upholsterers, plasterers, butchers, carpenters, tailors and as mechanics in the Union Pacific railroad shops, at wages ranging from $15 to $25 a week.

In short, estimating the average earnings of men sent away by the removal office at $500 per annum, which is far from a high figure, it may be said that they are earning $8,000,000 per annum, which is no mean addition to the industrial wealth of the country, when the fact is borne in mind that the great bulk of those earning this amount came to this country as helpless foreigners.

A recent investigation by agents of the office showed these facts: Six men sent to Columbus, Ohio, had savings in banks ranging from $75 to $300, and aggregating $960, notwithstanding the fact that three of them were sending money home to Russia and two of them had brought their families from there. Of nine men sent to Nashville, Tenn., three have their own stores already. Two carpenters sent to Minneapolis have savings of $800 and $700, respectively, and one shoemaker sent there owns his own house. A Pittsburg machinist is earning $20 a week; another $4 a day. Three of the four have bank accounts ranging from $300 to $500. Of those sent to Rochester, six have purchased houses and others have bank accounts as high as $500. Twenty-nine men sent to that city have aggregate bank savings and holdings in real estate amounting to $8,000.

It must be borne in mind that none of these men, when sent away, had employment of any kind in New York. Every one was out of a job when sent. It entails more responsibility than the removal office is willing to assume to take a man out of a paying job here and send him elsewhere, where he may or may not succeed. The bulk of the men whose cases are cited above came here as immigrants, many of them destitute.

poems, but was also an object of national and antiquarian interest.

"He regarded it as absolutely necessary to save the Auld Brig. Otherwise, supposing they failed to find the money, they might have the Auld Brig purchased by some great American multi-millionaire, who would have all the stones numbered and have them again built together in his back yard at Chicago. If they did not save the Auld Brig—if he could embark on such a hypothesis as that—he would wish that that should be its fate. That act, in the New World, would be an eternal reproach to Old Scotland. The real feeling he had at heart in this matter was to avert that stain from Scotland and from the Scottish escutcheon, which he thought would be absolutely indelible. "They had not many monuments in Scotland. Their principal stone monument was the coronation chair in England—the Stone of Destiny, but after all the Stone of Destiny was only a stone. It was associated, no doubt, with many tragic and interesting traditions, but he was not sure that in itself it was so interesting as this Auld Brig of Ayr."

How He Could Tell.

"Give me two boys in school for a year," said a teacher, "and I can forecast with much probability of correctness the future of each. It has been my observation, strengthened by my experience, that a boy does not change his habits when he leaves the school room. If he is industrious, honest, earnest, careful, and conscientious during his school days, it is pretty certain that these same qualities will dominate in his after life; but if he is lazy, untrustworthy, listless, careless, and unscrupulous in school, his chances for becoming a good citizen and a success as a man are about equal to the opportunity the Scriptures grant to a camel to pass through the eye of a needle."—American Boy.

HEAD GATE AND MEASURING BOXES FOR IRRIGATING SYSTEMS

The Water Supply Is Kept Under Perfect Control and Quantity Used Accurately Measured.

Each farmer who has an irrigating system needs a head gate to control the flow from the main or branch canal into his private ditch. This head gate should meet the requirements of both the canal company and the farmer. The interests of the company demand that it shall be water-tight when closed, large enough to admit the necessary flow, and so made that it can not be raised above a given height. The farmer is likewise interested in having a substantial head gate of ample size, but in addition he desires it to be designed in such a way that he can, when he chooses, close it partly or altogether. By a reference to weir tables the flow may be found for any depth. Thus, if the depth on the gauge is six inches, the flow through the 24-inch weir shown in figure 11 would be 95 miner's inches.

Dwarf Apple Tree Grown by Prof. Waugh

One of the subjects relating to horticulture which demands deserved attention is the experiment of Prof. F. A. Waugh, of the Massachusetts agricultural college in the production of dwarf fruits. The one-fourth acre dwarf fruit orchard there fruited heavily last season. All of the common fruits such as apples, pears, plums, peaches, nectarines, etc., are found in the dwarf fruit garden. Fine large apples last season grew on trees not half as tall as a man. The fruit in some instances was within two or three inches of the ground. Prof. Waugh expresses confidence that dwarf fruit trees have some commercial possibilities, while placing the emphasis on their importance to the small householder and village dweller.

One Thing at a Time.—Few farmers can make a success of raising fancy and plain poultry at the same time. Doing one thing at a time, and that thing well applies to poultry raising the same as anything else.

Caring for Lambs.—It won't pay to have the little lambs running out in the snow before it begins to melt. Chase them around inside if they show signs of thumps.

Not a Good Growing Ration.—If the lambs are wintered on an exclusive ration of fodder and hay and roots to make some growth, the gain will be so little, as the proportion of food used for mere existence is so great, that the gain will not pay for the trouble, interest and risk.

Winter Work.—A good winter's job: Make things in the house handy for the wife. Study her comfort.

THE TYROLEAN ALPS

ST. LOUIS FAIR FEATURE SUCH CUMBS AT LAST TO WRECKER.

Picturesque Group of Buildings Which Have So Long Been Fashionable Resort Are Being Torn Down.

The reproduction of the Tyrolean Alps was one of the striking and picturesque features of the St. Louis fair and this unique group of buildings has during the years since then remained one of the attractions of the city and was a fashionable resort and the scene of much gaiety and pleasure. But all this is soon to be a thing of the past, for the wrecker has begun his work and before many weeks have passed the quaint buildings and beautiful scenery will be only a pleasant memory.

It is no easy undertaking to demolish this great heap of cement, timber and metal; the imitations of the ancient, romantic Tyrol castles and houses were substantially built, despite the fact that they were the handiwork of the artist. Some of the finest panorama paintings of the world were installed in the building known as the "castle," wherein the charming views of the Alpine valleys, gorges and villages were given to the public, a few short months ago.

Two Tyrolean Workmen Who Have Lived in the "Alps" Ever Since They Were Built.

The quietude of certain obscure nooks gives one the impression that the villagers have been swept away by a ruthless invader, and the houses sacked and deserted and left to ruin. Then comes from over a mighty glacier the steady "click, click" of the workman's hammer and you are brought back to the reality again.

One of the most deplorable ravages done by these wreckers is the destruction of the "festival hall" in the castle. In this great medieval room, oaken rafters are brought strongly out by a framework of elegant frescoing and reproductions of famous Tyrolean paintings and sculpture work. We can picture in our mind's eye the day when chivalry was yet young and the bloody hordes of mountain robbers swooped down on the landed gentry, carrying death and ruin into their peaceful midst.

The paintings in this castle, which are valued at about $200,000, were painted by a German landscape artist of Berlin. His name is Rummelspacher, and he has made a life study of Tyrolean scenery, having spent a great part of his time at Innsbruck. These paintings, most of which are being taken down, still retain their value, and will be sold to various new summer gardens throughout the country. The paintings required three years to paint, and at least a dozen artists worked on them under the direction of Rummelspacher. When they were shipped from Germany the duty on them was even greater than their value, and a number of native artists who had helped paint them came over to look after their safety and help display them to the best advantage.

The hardy mountaineers who came with the painters remained and are even sticking to the paintings at the last. They are huge men, with typical Tyrolean countenances. The wrecking company has employed them to remove the paintings from the castle, to be kept in storage until a buyer is found who is willing to pay the price asked.

George Snitzer and Frank Schiebele are true types of the Tyrol peasantry. They have climbed the Alps from childhood, and are eager to return to their native land.

"I hate to see it go," said Snitzer, gazing at a cement peak which he had often seen in reality, "although it means more money for me. It seems a shame that such a good imitation of the most wonderful scenery in the world should be torn down like any old warehouse. I was with Rummelspacher during the entire time when he was painting the scenery, and I know how he loved it. Some of the best pictures were ruined on the passage and were never displayed in the Alps."

AN AIRSHIP STATION

NEW YORK TO HAVE REGULARLY APPOINTED ALIGHTING PLACE.

Is to Be a Half Way House Between Fort George and Coney Island for the Use of Daring Aeronauts.

Let the skeptic of the future of the airship sit up and take notice that New York city has progressed so far in the encouragement of aeronautics as to plan a regularly-appointed station for the use of airships. It is to be at Broadway and Twenty-ninth street, and a fleet of passenger airships is promised by the projectors of the new rapid-transit air route from Fort George to Coney Island. Fred Thompson and Joseph Weber are the men interested and they will incorporate the Aerial Navigation Company of America, establish the New York station and build their ships to be run next summer.

The promoters believe the experimental stage of the airship has passed, and they are backed in their opinion by all the airship experts with whom they have talked. Baldwin, Knabenshue and Stevens, all of whom have done much to push America to the front in the construction and flying of airships, have urged on the project.

The proposed route is from Vanity Fair, the new amusement park at Fort George, to Luna park, Coney Island, with one stop at Broadway and Twenty-ninth street. The course to be steered by the pilot of the ship, which is as nearly as possible an air line, is about 20 miles.

The flat, low-roofed buildings owned by Mr. Weber at Broadway and Twenty-ninth street made an ideal site for a New York or Broadway station of the airship route, and the two huge parks owned by Mr. Thompson provided attractive terminals. So Mr. Thompson and Mr. Weber agreed to go into the thing together.

As soon as they had definitely decided to carry out their plan they communicated with the leading airship pilots in the country. All the replies were more than favorable.

The new airship, which will be No. 1 of the Weber and Thompson company, will be 90 feet long. It will be similar to the California airship in which Capt. Baldwin made several successful flights last summer. Plans for the stations at Vanity Fair, Weber's theater and Luna park will be prepared by architects within a few weeks and the work of building them will begin immediately.

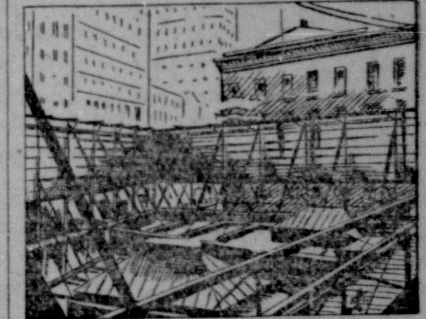

At Vanity Fair there is to be a steel platform that will rise nearly 100 feet in the air. Elevators will carry passengers from the surface to the airship car. A restaurant and palm-room will make the platform a popular place. Leaving Vanity Fair, the airship will rise straight in the air, turn sharply until it is directly over Broadway, and then fly straight down to Twenty-ninth street. A course high enough to clear the tallest buildings by several hundred feet will be followed.

A rest of 15 or 20 minutes will be taken at Broadway. Then the last half of the journey will be begun. Taking a course as straight as a bird the airship will head directly for Coney Island.

A landing station at Luna park, which will be built on the top of the Trip to the Moon building, will be nearly identical with that at Vanity Fair. A stringed orchestra will add to the attractions of the place.

"There is nothing I have undertaken in the last few years," said Mr. Thompson, "that I am so interested in as this airship navigation company. Its success will mean more to me than the success of anything else I am interested in, though from a material standpoint it will be carried on at a loss."

Roof, Over Which Airship Is to Be Built.

Mr. Weber is as enthusiastic over the Aerial Navigation company as is his partner.

"By the middle of July, at the very latest," said Mr. Weber, "the people in New York will see the regular flights of our airship up and down Broadway. The experimental age of aerial navigation has passed and it is time that airships began to take their place in the commercial world."

A "Roland for an Oliver."

The common phrase to give a "Roland for an Oliver" owes its origin to the romancers of the middle ages. Roland and Oliver were real persons, the two most famous of the 12 peers who surrounded Charlemagne.

Their exploits were represented in such an exaggerated and ridiculous fashion by the old romancers that the two names became synonyms for extravagant tales. Finally the expression arose of giving one a "Roland for his Oliver," to signify the matching of one incredible lie with another.—Sunday Magazine.

LITTLE RAY IRMA WILSON.

After lingering several days 'twixt life and death the sweet spirit of little Ray Irma Wilson took its flight from the frail little body to the realms of eternal life and light yesterday morning at 7:00 at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Wilson. Her life had almost been despaired of for two or three days, yet the ministrations of loved ones and neighbors and the attention of physicians were exerted to the uttermost in the effort to save her life. Though not unexpected, her death has been a grievous blow to the family by all of whom she was held in the tenderest affection. She was a bright, sweet child, three years old, beloved by all. Her death resulted after an attack of measles, followed by pneumonia. The remains will be laid to rest this morning at 10 o'clock at Tryon cemetery.

THE PHILIPPINE FOLLY.

The Philippine Islands are ours by right of conquest and purchase and treaty combined, so to speak, and there are not a few people who are ready to cry treason and fall in a convulsion at the suggestion that to take them at all was a mistake, and that to keep them is such monumental folly as to amount to a crime; yet the statement is true.

It is, of course, very euphonious and sweet-sounding and patriotic to talk about never hauling down the flag once it is up, and to never surrender territory won by valor of American arms, but such maudlin sentiment does not answer the question, what good do the islands do us, and what are we to expect from them?

The last figures given out showed that the American people had "dug up" the fruits of their sweat drops to the extent of over six hundred million dollars in the absurd attempt to civilize and Christianize ten million copper-colored Filipinos, ninety-five per cent of whom have been savages for five hundred years, are now, and will be for five hundred years to come.

Thousands of them, yea tens of thousands, are head hunters, cannibals and savages of the worst and lowest type, yet the laboring people of America and all classes here are being taxed to carry the blessings of free government to a lot of barbarians running half naked in swamps and waylaying and murdering American soldiers.

For all the millions spent 'not ten per cent has come back in profit. No more absurd, unprofitable, criminal waste of the people's money ever stained the calendar of a nation.

As wickedly inexcusable as is the financial waste, it is even of less moment than is the departure from and violation of the principles of free republican government. The Hon. John S. Wise of Virginia, in his recently published "Treatise on American Citizenship," deals with the question in a most interesting way.

He shows that the difference between state and territorial citizenship is only in name, but there can be no such progressive development and rapid growth to independence of federal supervision in our insular possessions.

Not only must our naval power be strengthened, but there is increased danger of foreign complications, and then the inhabitants of the islands are alien stock, which has never comprehended our ideals of government and will not for generations, and perhaps for centuries.

Mr. Wise, who is a republican in politics, though he is a Virginian by birth, and was a Confederate soldier, very truly observes: "It is doubtful if they will ever assimilate to our institutions, and whether they will not always need a strong government. It is questionable whether the injury to our home government from the ill-effects on its simplicity resulting from this practice of strong government upon our alien subjects will not be greater than any benefit which we are likely to bestow upon them."

They have to accept what the United States chooses to give them, for, as Mr. Wise says, the government is as to them a benevolent and well-meaning despot, who fixes a standard of right and wrong from a viewpoint altogether different from what the islanders ever heard of.

Financially and politically, as business or as politics, the keeping of the Philippines is inexcusable folly, more especially because if Japan or some other nation were to try to occupy them, it would cost the lives of tens of thousands of white Americans to keep as semi-citizens a lot of savages.—Houston Chronicle.

The committee is composed of Prof. J. D. Willis, chairman; Prof. R. McDonald of Harvey, president of the institute, and Miss Ada Board. Prof. Willis informs the Eagle that sentiment among the Brazos county teachers strongly favors the movement and that the committee is now in correspondence with the teachers of surrounding counties with the outlook very favorable for securing the normal.

NEGRESSES KILLED.

Head of One of the Women Was Blown Entirely Off.

Little Rock, March 21.—A special to the Arkansas Gazette from McKa-mie, Ark., says: At 2 o'clock on March 21, three and a half miles from here, while under guard of a constable in the school house there, two young negroes, the Taylor sisters, one twenty years of age, and the other fifteen, were shot by an unknown person. The shooting of the negroes was the sequel of an assault with a knife made by them on the preceding afternoon on Mrs.
Jack Rhoton and her married daughter, Mrs. Nora Oglesby. The assault on Mrs. Rhoton and her daughter was unprovoked and murderous. Mrs. Rho-ton's life being saved only by the fact that the negro who wielded the knife failed to strike where she intended.

The negroes were arrested and taken to Meyer's Hill, where they were guarded in the school house, there being no jail either there or here. Some unknown person slipped up to the school house and fired two shots, one of which blew the top of the elder negro's head off and the other went through the lungs of the younger negro. The younger negro cannot survive.

No arrests have been made, and there is no clue as to who fired the shots.

President Davis' secret service, rendering valuable assistance to the Confederacy.

Mr. Cleveland was related to former President Cleveland.

CARRIED BY ASSAULT.

Forces of Honduras Have Had Serious Losses, However.

San Salvador, March 21.—The following communication was made to the correspondent of the Associated Press by General Jose Dolores Presa, commander of the Salvadorean forces:
"Our columns, with unrivalled gallantry, carried the front and flanking positions of the enemy by assault. We dislodged the enemy from all their positions excepting the last, where a desperate resistance was made. The final effort of the engagement will be made at this point.

"The enemy is estimated at 5,000 well armed men.

"The Honduran forces had regrettable losses in commanding and other officers."

MAIL BAG STOLEN.

Contents Valued at Four Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Paris, March 21.—An American mail bag, the contents of which are valued at approximately $400,000, has been stolen. The theft occurred either on Thursday on the steamship between New York and Havre and Paris.

The postal authorities have just placed the matter in the hands of detectives, although the theft occurred a fortnight ago. A cable inquiry to the New York postoffice brought confirmation of the fact that the mail bag had been embarked at New York. The name of the steamer by which the bag was shipped has not yet been disclosed.

ment prevails, and work and business a large section on account of the interest in the affair.

ment was made that Mrs. Russell Sage tion.

A Terrible Punishment.

A man suspected of treason in Morocco was punished by having the flesh of his hand sliced, the wound filled with salt and the whole hand sewed up in leather. It is a common belief that this punishment causes mortification to set in and that the hand decomposes, but such is not the case, for by the time the leather wears off the hand is healed, the result being that the hand is rendered useless and remains closed forever. It is a punishment not often in use, but is sometimes done in cases of murder or constant theft, as, without in any way injuring the health of the man, it prevents his committing the crime a second time or for the hundredth time, as the case may be. It is a punishment that cannot be applied except by the sultan's orders.—Blackwood's Magazine.

A Fairly Big Fish.

Paddy had been telling the story of a big pike he caught, too big to get into the boat, so that he had to be towed behind (with the gaff in it, it must be understood). Then followed this dialogue: "What weight, Paddy?" "Div-vill a know I know, but he was an ojus baste." "Was that the biggest you ever saw, Paddy?" Then Paddy gave a description of the biggest he ever saw. "What weight, Paddy?" "Sorra a bit I know. He was a terror." "How big, Paddy?" "Sure, I can't tell to a foot or two, but a man could walk down his throat." On this incredulity, but Paddy "clinched the matter and silenced all controversy" by adding,
"Wid his hat on."—Angler's Evenings.

Emergency Foods.

According to Dr. Robert Hutchinson of London, if at any time meat is not available, bread, sugar and eggs will make "a very respectable support for the body." Sugar is an exceedingly valuable article of food as a source of energy, the unfortunate thing about it being that it contains no nitrogenous matter. Bread, however, does contain some; hence it balances up well when combined with sugar. In times of scarcity of food bread and molasses is not a half bad diet—at least it can be relied on to keep the body up to a fair state of efficiency.
